John Mills Electric Exec Receives Prestigious NECA Award

Lindsay Mills Inducted as a Fellow into the Academy of Electrical Contracting

ELMIRA HEIGHTS, NEW YORK – November 1, 2016 – John Mills Electric, a full service electrical contracting company, headquartered in Elmira Heights, New York announced today that the president of the company, Lindsay Mills was inducted as a Fellow into the National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA) Academy of Electrical Contracting. This is the highest honor that can be earned in NECA.

The Academy was established in 1968 for the purpose of honoring outstanding leaders in the electrical contracting field, and to preserve and utilize, the wealth of experience and abilities that these leaders have developed through their years of dedicated effort.

Mr. Mills was one of only thirteen industry leaders selected for induction this year from across the country. He was presented with the award on October 8 in a special ceremony in Boston at NECA's annual convention and trade show.

"Receiving this honor from NECA is extremely gratifying for me," said Mills. "My father, John Mills, acquired this company in 1978, and he taught me and everyone at John Mills Electric that success starts with honesty, integrity and professionalism. I have tried to live these values, and instill the same values in our employees. I see this award as a testament to my father and to the wonderful people here at our company."

To be considered for the NECA Academy, a person must have served in an executive capacity for a NECA member firm for at least ten years, and must have contributed services to the industry so outstanding as to be beyond any normal call of duty or loyalty. Additionally, a candidate must be nominated by two existing fellows of the academy, and persevere through several Academy votes and approval measures.

"The Academy was created to honor outstanding leaders in the electrical contracting field," said Bruce Condie, Executive Director, Southern Tier NECA. "Lindsay Mills was nominated for this award due to his continued support and dedication to the electrical industry in the Southern Tier and throughout New York State. We are proud to have Lindsay as a member of the Southern Tier Chapter of NECA and look forward to working with Lindsay as he continues his work to make the electrical industry as strong and safe as possible for the future."
